The majority of U.S. businesses qualify as closely-held or family businesses, and there is a high likelihood that you will encounter and need to navigate conflicts when working with your business clients. Through this seminar, you will learn strategies for preventing and minimizing conflicts and what the legal options are when conflicts arise. Topics that will be discussed include:

- The sources of conflict and methods to prevent conflicts
- Unique challenges facing family businesses
- How choice of entity affects conflicts
- Real-world examples of how conflicts play out
